Living, Laughing, and Loving your way to the Good Life

How to Talk to Men ~

can give you the communication tools to build long-lasting connections with the men in your life. You can learn to win the heart of your mate, earn the trust of your business associate or boss, and protect the aliveness of your sons.

This workshop will open your eyes to the protective nature of men and show you how to win that warrior over to your side. You will bond deeply with other curious women who are equally committed to unraveling the knots that can occur between the sexes. Participants laugh, cry, and pour their hearts into the process of finding happiness with men. As soon as you learn each new tool, you are given opportunities to practice, practice, practice, with supportive feedback from your coach and the other participants.

Some of the skills you'll come away with:

- ~Discover how to get your way by giving in
- ~Explore self-destructive habits (how are you currently shooting yourself in the foot?)
- ~Develop an environment of unconditional love

- ~Reduce your conflict by half
- ~How to focus your conversation on events rather than interpretations
- ~Forge a new basis for cooperation
- ~Improve your feelings of self-esteem
- ~Learn how to harness the power of men to increase your income

One crucial part of our ability to build healthy collaborations with men is our ability to relax, nurture our femininity, and forge truly powerful and supportive alliances with other women.

You will ~ COME BACK HAPPY!
