

TRANSITIONS...

START LIVING THE LIFE YOU WERE MEANT TO LIVE

Transitions occur every day around us in our daily lives. Flowers bloom, leaves fall, the growth of green appears in spring, children grow, and we add another number to our years each year. Yes, the environment, nature, people, relationships, work, and product technology keeps changing and evolving.

As human beings, we also are transitioning. Evolution and growth happens on many levels, whether we are conscious of this or not. Putting attention on these areas and your desires, as well as the quest for personal investigation of who you really are, is what the coaching process is all about.

It starts with a longing, a desire to be, or perhaps the desire to find out what it is that you desire. You could also be at a turning point in your life, or maybe you just want to have more consciousness of what you do have and desire. Fulfilling your desires will move you to a new dimension in your being. You can become more alive, excited, happy, and fun. You will look years younger.

Sometimes it begins with an idea, a talent, or perhaps a wild dream that you have had but never spoken of; an exotic dancer, living in a foreign land, owning your own business, or maybe you just don't know what it is. This is where the coaching process begins, with an interview and a desired outcome. On a weekly basis, we will schedule sessions to inquire into what it is you want. Feedback is essential to the process in order to distinguish what illuminates you.

If you are thinking about leaving corporate life and have an idea for a business, we can assist you with the details of the business. We can create the beginning steps of a project, create a model and test market for success, always looking. Is it making you happy? Are you being fulfilled? Are you getting what you want? Are you creating a destiny that illuminates? What we don't want is to create another new improved mousetrap because no matter how you look at it, it is still a mousetrap.

Maybe you know what you want to do and need guidance, knowledge, or feedback. Creating projects first around the desire or goal can reveal many insights into the future of this goal and allow you the freedom to choose your path for your life.

In seeking this life you were meant to live, looking or thinking of it in your own mind is not always the reliable and honest way of finding your passion. Using a trained coach in observation and feedback, saying what we see not what we think, you begin to get an essence of the lifestyle you always desired.

This experience is about having the fun or pleasure you want in your life, the confidence that comes from increased self-esteem, and the aliveness, vitality and wisdom that occurs in beauty. That is what will happen in this process of living the life you were meant to live.

Registration and Information:

The process begins upon payment of tuition prior to the first coaching appointment and interview.

Contract of weekly sessions by phone or in person:

Three months - $1500

Six months - $2500

Contract of weekly sessions with unlimited access to contract coach and access to consult or coach with our team of professional coaches that are available for your specific need:

Three months - $2500

Six Months - $4500

Schedule:

Coaching begins with an interview and a desired outcome. We will first begin to look at what it is you want to create with your package. The first three months may encompass looking at what you want and desire and trying new things, with the result of finding what illuminates you! Then, we create a project around our findings. The project compliments the desire and continues to build the lightness.

Through the project created, we now begin to see and observe your gifts and talents, always looking to see what's working, and what's not working. Does this bring lightness, or am I receding? Are we achieving our desired outcomes? We then move to project completion and feedback.

Now we can see how this can be utilized in your life. Making adjustments and sometimes changing course may occur. The coach has no agenda but to keep you conscious of your energy and the success of the project.

Have we created the curiosity to keep going? Remember, our life is a process that ends only when we die. Living a life, going for your desires and dreams, and learning will get you everything you always wanted. A Lifestyle of Self-Esteem, Pleasure and Beauty.

ABOUT BeverlyD

As the initiating coach in this process, BeverlyD has always been known for her talent to get people started moving in the direction they want to go. This was prevalent in her hairdressing career as a teacher to many hairdressing professionals, and to her clients who sat in her chair; assisting individuals in finding their way. It is evident when she walks in a room. Some people refer to it as getting the party started ~ we call it initiative.

Transitions are a way of life for BeverlyD, as she has made many in her professional life. From hairdresser to salon manager, to a salon group supervisor of 14 salons, then moving from corporate to the private sector with her own salon business of 15 years. Now she has graduated from local business owner to international business owner with her BeverlyD Organic Hair & Body Products company and a coaching and consultant practice that includes the BeverlyD Beauty Farm, a three-day retreat introducing the idea of coaching to fulfill the life and beauty of your dreams.

BeverlyD likes to distinguish herself as the entrepreneurial coach, assisting in the startup of your business, of your career, or of your lifestyle. "I was a hair stylist, now I am a LIFE STYLIST, transitioning individuals from their present life into their newly created life of happiness and energy. Moving your profession from work to play, managing the old and creating the new, from restriction to freedom, that is the foundation of my practice."

BeverlyD works and cooperates with other professional coaches in the field and will call on their services and recommend them for your process. They share a vision that includes freedom, happiness, health and prosperity for the planet. "These coaches have worked with me and have contributed a great deal to my life, keeping me on track and speaking to my greatness when I didn't think I was so great. I feel like I have someone on my team rooting for me. Entrepreneurship can be a lonely game in this individualized world, and, as coaches, we create a powerful team that connects people to who they were meant to be."
